Choosing the right legacy

The three main types are:

Pecuniary legacy -

This allows you to specify the amount of money you would like to give.

Residuary legacy -

This is a gift of all or part of your estate after all other expenses, debts and legacies have been paid.

Specific legacy -

This is a gift of a specific asset, such as property, land or shares, in your will.

Your solicitor or legal adviser can tell you more about other types of legacies that may be more appropriate for you, such as a conditional or reversionary legacy.

The Magdalene Group strongly advises that your solicitor or legal adviser be consulted on all aspects of your Will.
